

"SAY Hi To TOM"

a project by Christina Schultz

THE PROJECT "SAY Hi To TOM"

is a crowdsourced action, an invitation to participate in a call for postcards by the artist christina schultz. The goal is to receive 77 postcards through an open call at the internet and turn them into personalized collages. ONE of them will be printed in a limited edition, signed and sent to ALL participants of the action.

The idea of this action is a parodic response to all the countries that are about to turn into "Souvenirlandia" invading public space with a multicultural population on vacation.

This action is dedicated to all travelers and hosts who fight against massive tourism.

THE ARTIST

The artist christina schultz contrives around inside and outside, public and privacy. Her works engage people in participative actions. With colorful techniques, such as musical performance, paper collage, analog stop motion and interactive sites she creates crowdsourced technofantasies to transcend you.

LIFE and live

Christina Schultz was born february the 5th, in Munich, Germany 1972. A decade ago she created her actual base of life in Barcelona. She's an interactive artist, digital content strategist and a ZEN non-artist.
